

Made in America Art Contest

In October, the Washington Symphony Orchestra will present “Made in America,” a concert that will explore American music in all of its forms. The WSO is inviting all children in grades K through 6 to draw a picture with the theme “Made in America.” What does “Made in America” mean to you? The concert will feature music by George Gershwin, Billy Strayhorn, Henry Mancini and Aaron Copeland, among others—you can listen to their music for inspiration while you create your image for the contest!
